

COQUILLE INDIAN TRIBAL CODE

Chapter 213

Part 2 – Culture Matters

Amendment to Coquille Cyberwire Corporation Articles of Incorporation

213.010 General

1. Purpose. This Ordinance provides the Tribal Council’s approval with regard to certain amendments to the Coquille Cyberwire Corporation Articles of Incorporation.

2. Background. The Coquille Indian Tribe is the sole owner of the Coquille Economic Development Corporation (“CEDCO”), a corporation chartered under Coquille Tribal law. CEDCO is the sole owner of the Coquille Cyberwire Corporation, (the “CCC”) which is also chartered under Coquille Tribal law. The CCC Articles of Incorporation provide that any amendment to the CCC Article require approval by the Tribal Council by Ordinance. The CCC Board of Directors and the CEDCO Board Directors have approved proposed changes to the CCC Articles of Incorporation. The purpose of this Ordinance is for the Tribal Council to approve those changes to the CCC Articles.

3. Jurisdiction. (Reserved)

213.120 Definitions (Reserved)

213.150 Approval of Amendments to CCC Articles of Incorporation

The Coquille Tribal Council approves of the changes to the CCC Articles of Incorporation described in Exhibit A, which is attached to and made a part of this Ordinance as if it were written here.

213.213 Future Amendments

Future amendments to the CCC Articles of Incorporation will not require an amendment to this Ordinance in order to be effective and binding, provided that they are adopted in accordance the then existing CCC Articles of Incorporation.

213.600 Severability

If a court of competent jurisdiction finds any provision of this Ordinance to be invalid or illegal under applicable Federal or Tribal law, such provision shall be severed from this Ordinance and the remainder of this Ordinance shall remain in full force and effect.

213.700 No Effect on Distinct Corporate Status

Nothing in this Ordinance alters or affects the status of CCC or CEDCO as distinct corporations.

213.900 Sovereign Immunity
